

Dear Working Mother,

I know you have a lot
On your plate.
Too much,
For one to take.
But you do it anyway,
And with such grace.
And enthusiasm.

I know you are
Your harshest critic.
That you won't cut
Yourself some slack.

I know you are kind,
That you are generous,
That you are driven.
That you work hard,
And love harder.

I know that
You are trying
Your very best.

I want you to know –
Even on your bad days,
You are doing a good job.
You are all they desire.
All they will ever need.
To them,
You are everything.
